HKIA Consultancy

Hong Kong International Airport (HKIA) has been a major international and regional aviation hub since 1998. HKIA has won over 80 awards as the “world’s best airport” in recognition of its excellence in airport management and operations. Over the years, HKIA has provided professional services on subjects relating to airport planning, operations and development to many airports particularly those in the Mainland China.

With its extensive track record managing one of the best and busiest airports in the world, the Airport Authority Hong Kong has established HKIA Consultancy which provides dedicated, holistic and tailor-made solutions to its client. The team comprises experts who have all-round airport experience and comprehensive knowledge of airport functions as well as the specific requirements of airport operators, stakeholders and customers.

Our Vision

HKIA Consultancy is committed to creating a worldwide airport community that provides efficient and seamless travel experiences for passengers. We not only offer professional consultancy services, but also promote cooperation between partner airports.

Our Services

We offer high-level interdisciplinary professional services covering airport operational management, planning, design, technology and business development.

Airport Management & Operation

We have extensive experience managing one of the busiest airports in the world as well as major airports in the Mainland China.

Smart Technology

We offer innovative solutions that enhance airport efficiency and passenger experience. HKIA pioneered the use of RFID in baggage handling and has also invented numerous technological applications, such as smart check-in kiosks and the Automated Airfield Ground Lighting Scanning And Inspection System (AGLSIS).

Cargo Hub Development

As the busiest cargo airport in the world, we offer professional advice on cargo terminal development and logistics services.

Airport/ Aerotropolis Planning

Cities around the world are developing “airport city” projects to seize enormous economic opportunities. We can help metropolises explore land use opportunities to fully maximise the functionality of their airport areas.

Multimodal Connectivity

We plan and manage intermodal air-sea and air-land services with streamlined operational processes to provide a seamless transfer experience for passengers.

Contingency Planning

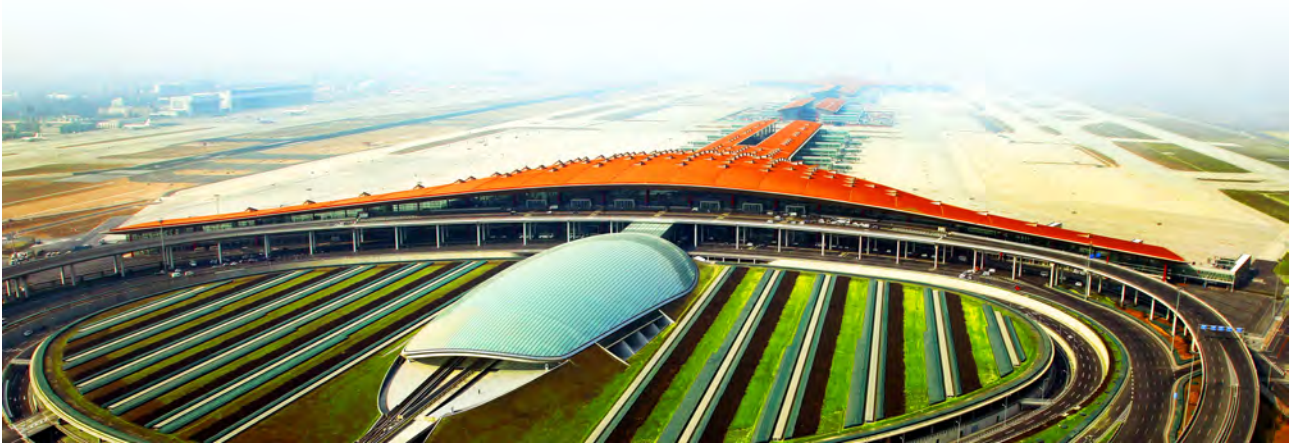

Our business continuity and contingency management planning services are based on a wealth of practical experience.

Our Experience

Over the years, HKIA has provided extensive consultancy services to many airports in the region, particularly in the Mainland China, covering a number of aspects ranging from organisational reviews, planning, detailed design, operational readiness to contract management and airport management.

Beijing Capital International Airport

Over a five-year period, our team provided consultancy services for the airport's new Terminal 3, Ground Transportation Centre and roads and baggage system planning, design, management contracts, operational readiness and more in preparation for the Beijing 2008 Olympics.

Shanghai Pudong International Airport

With a planned third terminal to complement its Satellite Concourse and two runways in 2015, its annual capacity is expected to increase to 80 million passengers and 6 million tonnes of freight per annum. To help the airport cope with such rapid expansion, we provided comprehensive consultancy services in 2014 that drove improvements in regionalised management, retail and terminal flow management.
